Dear [REDACTED]

Thank you for your invitation to deliver the 40th John Findley Green Foundation Lecture at Westminster College in October 1983. Clare Luce did speak to me about undertaking this and I would be pleased and honored to do so.

I would think the 2:30 p.m. time on Saturday would be most suitable from my standpoint but I would be happy to suit your convenience. It will be my pleasure to be your guest at the President's House and to have luncheon or supper as you suggest either prior to or following my address. I would also want to find time to visit the Churchill Memorial and Library sometime during my visit.

With every good wish.

Sincerely yours,

William J. Casey
